1. BACKGROUND

The United Nations Development Assistance Framework (UNDAF) 2013-2017 is a strategic framework with a regional outlook that describes the collective response of the UN system to national development priorities, reflecting the comparative advantage of the UN in the Pacific. It shows where the UN system brings its unique strengths to bear in advocacy, capacity development, programming and cutting edge knowledge and policy advice, for the achievement of the internationally agreed standards and development goals, including MDG related national priorities. The Pacific UNDAF 2013-2017 was signed by each of the Governments of the 14 PICTS and the UN in March, 2013.

The evaluation will help the UN in the Pacific to continue to position itself in the changing context of the Pacific region and each PICT and with due consideration for the adopted 2030 global Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and the Pacific Framework for Regionalism consider priorities and positioning of the UN in the future and in particular the planning cycle of 2018-2022.

Refer to Annex 1 – Terms of Reference for details.

2. SCOPE OF WORK

The scope of the evaluation is the five UNDAF outcomes and its two cross cutting areas Youth and HIV/AIDS, a Pacific regional perspective with implementation across the 14 PICTs, the joint programmes where they exist and the UNDAF programming principles (human rights, gender equality, environmental sustainability, results-based management, capacity development) will form a core part of the analyses. The scope of work also includes facilitation of the UNCT kick off retreat where the evaluation will be discussed. A key focus of this evaluation will be Joint Programming and Joint Programmes. The evaluation process will seek to apply innovative approaches to ensure widespread and timely consultation making best use of VOIP/telephone technologies and planned regional consultations on localization of SDGs, utilizing established coordination networks across the region and the existing networks and contacts of technical staff. UN Country Team in the Pacific
UNDAF 2013-2017 Independent Evaluation Consultancy

1. Introduction

The United Nations Development Assistance Framework (UNDAF) 2013-2017 is a strategic framework with a regional outlook that describes the collective response of the UN system to national development priorities, reflecting the comparative advantage of the UN in the Pacific. It shows where the UN system brings its unique strengths to bear in advocacy, capacity development, programming and cutting edge knowledge and policy advice, for the achievement of the internationally agreed standards and development goals, including MDG related national priorities.

Unlike most UNDAF documents, which relate to a single country’s development context, the 2013-2017 Pacific UNDAF covers priority programmatic work across 14 Pacific Island Countries and Territories (PICTS). The Pacific UNDAF 2013-2017 was signed by each of the Governments of the 14 PICTS and the UN in March, 2013.

The evaluation will help the UN in the Pacific to continue to position itself in the changing context of the Pacific region and each PICT and with due consideration for the adopted 2030 global Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and the Pacific Framework for Regionalism consider priorities and positioning of the UN in the future and in particular the planning cycle of 2018-2022.

The primary audience of the evaluation will be the UN system in the Pacific, including non-resident agencies, regional leader’s fora and national government partners. More broadly the evaluation will be considered by civil society, the private sector, agency executive boards as well as multilateral and bilateral donors. On the global level UNDOCO, UNDG-AP and the UN’s regional offices will also have the opportunity to draw on its conclusions.

1. Purpose/Objective

An evaluation of the UNDAF 2013-2017 in the penultimate year is mandatory and an important opportunity to assess the overall efficiency, effectiveness, relevance and sustainability of this framework to the development of the Pacific region and specifically the 14 PICTs, the contribution of the UN to development results in relation to each country’s priorities, as well as in relation to regional priorities identified in frameworks such as the Pacific Plan. The UN’s comparative advantage in relation to the development priorities of the Pacific is also considered in this context. The overarching goal of the United Nations in the Pacific is to support the Government and its development partners to apply the principles of the Millennium Declaration and accelerate the achievement of the Millennium Development Goals and also the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), with equity. The evaluation serves three main purposes:

i. To assess the relevance of the five UNDAF Outcomes vs the MDGs/SDGs and two cross cutting issues, the efficiency and effectiveness by which UNDAF Outcomes and Country Programme outcomes are being achieved and their impact and sustainability and contribution to national priorities, including the effectiveness of joint programming and joint programmes, and country progress in implementation of key international and national commitments with emphasis on gender equality and human rights;

ii. To determine how the UNDAF helped UN agencies to contribute more effectively and efficiently to national development efforts and capacity building, strengthened coordination, commitments to Delivering as One, partnership development inclusive of civil society and regional organisations; and

iii. To learn from experiences of the current programming cycle (2013-2017), and consider the sustainability and impact of the UN’s efforts through identification of issues and opportunities emerging from the implementation of the current UNDAF, to inform the design of the next UN Strategic Framework (2018-2022).

The required output of the evaluation will be the presentation of a set of clear, forward-looking and actionable recommendations logically linked to the findings and conclusions. These recommendations will include specific guidance on how to implement, monitor and evaluate the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in the next UNDAF cycle.

2. Scope of Work

The scope of the evaluation is the five UNDAF outcomes and its two cross cutting areas Youth and HIV/AIDS, a Pacific regional perspective with implementation across the 14 PICTs, the joint programmes where they exist and the UNDAF programming principles (human rights, gender equality, environmental sustainability, results-based management, capacity development) will form a core part of the analyses. A key focus of this evaluation will be Joint Programming and Joint Programmes.

The scope of work also includes facilitation of the UNCT kick off retreat where the evaluation will be discussed in detail.

The evaluation process will seek to apply innovative approaches to ensure widespread and timely consultation making best use of VOIP/telephone technologies and planned regional consultations... on localization of SDGs, utilizing established coordination networks across the region and the existing networks and contacts of technical staff.

3. Evaluation Questions

Given the context described above, the Pacific UNDAF 2013-2017 evaluation will establish an evaluation matrix focused on: Relevance, effectiveness, efficiency, sustainability and impact, seeking to ensure purposeful coverage of UN work across the region, within the 14 programme countries in the five outcome areas, inclusive of the UN's targeted sectoral priorities and comparative advantages.

The evaluation will draw on the following broad question areas to develop a set of focused agreed questions within a structure for analysis and consultation to inform the recommendations reached. This analysis and questioning may include:

Relevance: The extent to which the objectives of UNDAF are consistent with country needs, national priorities, the country’s international and regional commitments, including on human rights and the recommendations of Human Rights mechanisms, sustainable development, environment, and gender equality. The extent to which the UNCT has been able to adapt to changing circumstances in the region and country so that UN interventions and any results achieved will continue to be relevant.

In this context, the evaluation should in particular look into the following:

- Cross-cutting issues of Youth and HIV/AIDS, and UNDAF programming principles (human rights based approach, gender equality, environmental sustainability, capacity development, results based management) address or applied in the UNDAF;
- Adapting to evolving challenges and priorities in the country and leveraging the UN comparative advantage;
- UNDAF country matrices alignment with national development priorities and plans, and extent to which Agency programmes follow the country level UNDAF;
- How can the planning phase for the next UNSPF 2018-2022 cycle best incorporate the SDGs to ensure that the post 2015 development agenda is fully reflected?

Effectiveness: The extent to which the UNCT contributed to, or is likely to contribute to, the outcomes defined in the UNDAF. The evaluation should also note how unintended results, if any, have affected regional and national development positively or negatively and to what extent have they been foreseen and managed. Identify lessons learnt for future programming, particularly how the UN can best contribute to mainstreaming and localizing the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda:
In this context, the evaluation should in particular look into the following:

- What progress has been made towards the realization of UNDAF outcomes as a contribution to the achievement of National Priorities and the MDGs? What lessons learnt can be identified and used to guide planning for mainstreaming and localizing the SDGs in the next UNSFP 2018-2022 programme cycle?
- The extent to which the geographical targeting strategy is/was a vehicle to drive progress, and how it was applied/used by Agency programming;
- Enabling and constraining factors.

Efficiency: How the UN in the Pacific’s ways of working affected progress on results and the implementation of UNDAF programming strategies and UN programming principles. The extent to which outcomes are achieved with the appropriate amount of resources and maintenance of minimum transaction cost (funds, expertise, time, administrative costs, etc.). In this context, the evaluation should in particular look into the following:

- The pillar system and the coordination structures as contributors to (1) results and enhanced synergies among contributing programmes, including joint programming and Joint programmes; and (2) effective implementation of UNDAF core strategies and UN programming principles;
- Joint resources mobilized and success in filling the resource gap.

Sustainability: The extent to which capacity building interventions in the current UNDAF cycle are likely to contribute to the sustainability of programme results, after it has been completed.

- Have complementarities, collaboration and/or synergies fostered by UNDAF contributed to greater sustainability of results of Donors intervention in the country?
- Does the UNDAF respond to the challenges of national capacity development and promote ownership of programmes?

Impact: The extent to which the UNDAF has targeted the poorest and marginalized people and has led to the reduction of inequalities.

- Determine whether there is any major change in UNDAF and national development indicators that can reasonably be attributed to or be associated with UNDAF implementation.
- Identify the contribution the UNDAF has made to working with key strategic partners in reaching the poor, vulnerable and marginalized through UNDAF implementation.
- Based on the human rights and gender equality principles applied during UNDAF implementation what observable or measurable impact has the UNDAF had on human rights and gender equality in the Pacific to date?
4. Method and Process

Methodology

Once the evaluation team has been selected preparatory work should be conducted by the team members to purposefully structure the evaluation approach, confirm specific evaluation strategies, data collection methods and required evaluation tools. The agreed methodology will be presented in a brief inception paper that will be agreed upon by the PMEG/UNCT before commencement.

The UNDAF evaluation will use a multiple method approach, which will include the following: a rapid desk review (synthesis and data analysis) of studies, surveys and evaluations conducted by UN agencies and their partners during the current UNDAF cycle as well as documents from the Government on national policies and strategies; Conduct interviews with HoAs, key UN staff, Outcome Group members, CDMs and stakeholders (Government reps, CSOs, donors & CROP); Conduct interviews with key Government officials with UN Country Coordination staff supporting the facilitation of interviews with key stakeholders at the country level, inclusive of any agreed site visits to nominated countries.

In order to use existing information and avoid duplication, secondary data will be utilised including a comprehensive desk review and analysis of relevant documents as well as triangulation of different studies. Primary data will also be collected from stakeholder key informant interviews, discussions, and consultative processes.

Stakeholder participation – The UNDAF evaluation will be conducted in a participatory manner, ensuring the involvement of key stakeholders (e.g. decision makers within UNCT including non-resident, key government counterparts, civil society, respective Executive Boards, UN staff, NGOs, international actors, bilateral and multilateral donors in programme and broader development partners, making special point to include National Women’s Machineries, women’s organizations and organizations representing vulnerable and marginalized groups). Given the multi-country nature of the UNDAF, as well as time constraints and budgetary implications, Stakeholders participation will use innovative approaches.

Preparation

- The UN RCO, in close consultations with the PMEG and M&E Group, will compile a list of background materials, documents, and reports relevant to the UNDAF Evaluation.
- The UNCT will jointly identify and select the appropriate consultants for the UNDAF Evaluation Team. The UN RCO will take the lead, jointly with the EMG (PMEG), in soliciting CVs of available consultants.
Prior to the main data collection phase, the UNDAF Evaluation Team Leader will assess the availability of evaluative evidence, and develop an inception paper or ‘Harmonized Evaluation Plan’, which will include a design matrix, data collection and analysis methods and potential sites for field consultation and visits.

The goals for the UNCT kick off retreat will be determined and a programme will be confirmed.

Conducting the Evaluation

- Briefing of the Evaluation Team: the PMEG and RCO facilitates access to all relevant documentation (including UNEG Norms and Standards, UNEG Code of Conduct for external Evaluations, programme documents, reviews list of key stakeholders, etc.) to the Evaluation Team. All relevant stakeholders, facilitate access to all necessary information.

- Inception paper: to clarify in writing and through presentations the understanding and expectations of how the evaluation will be undertaken, the Evaluation Team will prepare and submit to the PMEG the Inception Paper that further refines the overall evaluation scope, approach, design and timeframe, provides a detailed outline of the evaluation methodology. The inception paper will indicate the timing and focus of the UNCT kick off retreat.

- Data Collection: the Evaluation Team collects data deploying various data collection methods agreed upon in the Inception Report such as observation, interviews, focus groups and surveys. Relevant stakeholders from UNCT and the different UN agencies will facilitate access to information and provide all necessary logistical/organisational support.

- Reporting: Evaluation Team prepares the evaluation report in accordance with the UNEG Norms and Standards. The report has to be logically structured, containing evidence-based findings, conclusions, lessons and recommendations

- Evaluation Team delivers a presentation of the key findings to the PMEG.

- PMEG provide feedback on the evaluation report draft to the Evaluation Team.

- Evaluation team present the evaluation recommendations to the UNCT

- Evaluation team incorporates any remaining comments to the evaluation report

- Evaluation Team produces a final evaluation report (ready for broader circulation) based on the PMEG and UNCT final feedback.

Dissemination and Follow Up

- Dissemination of Evaluation Findings: the PMEG and RCO coordinate the dissemination of evaluation findings through the release of the evaluation report. The report is disseminated broadly to internal and external stakeholders, partners, donors and other interested parties. Special efforts should be made to distribute or make the evaluation findings accessible to vulnerable and marginalized groups and to organisations representing these individuals. The findings of the evaluation will be discussed along with findings of the 2016 Meta-Analysis in preliminary prioritization and planning discussions as part of the SPF 2018-2022 rollout process and prior to the strategic prioritization retreat. The report will also be published on the UNCT website and shared with UN DOCO for posting on the UNDG website.

- Extraction and Sharing of Lessons Learned: PMEG and RCO will ensure lessons learned from the evaluation are extracted and disseminated in order to contribute to strategic planning, learning, advocacy and decision-making at all levels. Lessons should be applied in the design of the following UNDAF cycle and can feed into knowledge management processes internally.

- Development of the Evaluation Management Response: A management response that outlines agreed upon actions as to how the evaluation findings and recommendations will be addressed by the UNCT. The Evaluation Management Response should be issued within two months after the evaluation findings become available and shared with DOCO and other entities as per the management response guidance (forthcoming). It is expected that the management response will largely be operationalized through the design of the UNDAF 2018-2022.

- Follow up of implementation of management response actions: This step is beyond the completion of the normal evaluation process and it is normally done as part of annual planning and review processes by the UNCT and other UNDAF stakeholders. It is also a good practice for Audits to examine the extent to which management response actions were flowed up.

5. Management and Organization

The evaluation consultant/team will be expected to work independently on the evaluation although organizational support will be available from the Office of the Resident Coordinator (RCO) and the Programme Monitoring and Evaluation Group (PMEG).

The Institutional Arrangements for the UNDAF evaluation will be constituted as follows:

a) Evaluation Commissioners (ECs) – the evaluation is commissioned by the UNCT. The evaluation is undertaken on the basis of the TOR approved by the evaluation commissioners. The Evaluation Commissioners delegate responsibility for oversight and day-to-day management of the independent evaluation to the designated Evaluation Manager supported by the PMEG with resourcing support from the RCO.

b) The UNDAF M/E officer will be the Evaluation Manager. The Evaluation Manager will oversee the day to day undertaking of the independent evaluation as per the agreed TOR with support from the PMEG and RCO. The evaluation manager will report directly to the RCs and the PMEG.
c) Programme Monitoring and Evaluation Group (PMEG) - The PMEG, with the support of the RCO is responsible for preparing a written and agreed management response to the evaluation on behalf of the UNCT within one month of receiving the final evaluation report. The PMEG reviews and endorses the final output of the evaluation for submission to the UNCT and the ECs. PMEG is responsible for: 1) quality assurance of the evaluation process to ensure that it meets UNEG norms, standards and Ethical guidelines; and 2) disseminating the findings of the evaluation (e.g., through Regional UNDG Teams and regional Peer Support Groups, with the assistance of the RCO). The PMEG is responsible for bringing any pertinent issues to the UNCT for their decision/approval. The PMEG will agree on a point person (preferably within the RCO who will be directly responsible for the day-to-day implementation of the evaluation, including coordination with JPOs and the wider UN network to support the evaluation data gathering processes).

d) The UNDAF Evaluation consultant/team is responsible for conducting the Evaluation as per the TOR on an independent and impartial basis following the UNEG Code of Conduct. They will undertake all data collection and analysis with the assistance of the RCO, JPOs and the PMEG as agreed, and:

- Lead each step of the evaluation process;
- Prepare a brief inception paper to confirm the agreed timeline, analytical framework and methodology;
- Ensure the quality and independence of the evaluation and guarantee its alignment with UNEG Norms and Standards and Ethical Guidelines;
- Identify and ensure the participation of relevant stakeholders in coordination with the PMEG and RCO throughout the evaluation process;
- Ensure the evaluation findings and conclusions are relevant and recommendations are implementable; and
- Contribute to the dissemination of the evaluation findings and follow-up on the management response
