

Terms of Reference (ToR)
Hiring International Consultant for Final Evaluation of Human Rights Programme

AGENCY/PROJECT NAME:	Human Rights Programme
DURATION:	25 days over the period of 3 months (10 May –10 August 2022)
COUNTRY OF ASSIGNMENT:	Bangladesh, Remotely
TYPE OF CONTRACT:	Individual Contract
POST LEVEL:	International Consultant
DUTY STATION:	Home-based

1. TERMS OF REFERENCE (ToR)

A. Project Title:

Human Rights Programme (HRP)

B. Background:

With the objective to protect and promote human rights, good governance, reduction of structural inequalities, and advancement of vulnerable individuals and groups, the Human Rights Programme (HRP) was designed to build the capacity of existing human rights architectures in Bangladesh, in particular the National Human Rights Commission. HRP also operates in a broader group of human rights stakeholders such as police, CSOs, CBOs, youths, rights defenders and media focusing on the left behind and most vulnerable individuals and groups, including women and girls, children and young people, third gender, ethnic and religious minorities, people with disabilities, Dalits and other minorities ¹with the aspirations to build human rights culture in Bangladesh.

The Human Rights Programme has the following five outputs:

Output 1: The National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) can more effectively deliver on its mandate.

Output 2: CSO/CBOs raise human rights awareness and promote a human rights culture.

Output 3: Law enforcement, in particular the police, upholds and promotes human rights.

¹ UNDP has been supporting the Bangladesh government to strengthen the human rights institutions to better serve and protect the rights of all citizens. UNDP undertook human rights-related programming primarily for the five years through the Bangladesh National Human Rights Commission Capacity Development Project (BNHRC-CDP), which ended in December 2015. Based on the successes of BNHRC-CDP, UNDP continued its efforts and designed the Human Rights Programme (2016-2020).

Output 4: NHRC and national stakeholders better protect and promote women’s rights.

Output 5: NHRC and national stakeholders better protect and promote the rights of ethnic minorities.

Initially it was designed for 5 years (2016-2020) but due to COVID pandemic the project was not able to complete all the planned activities and hence got extended till June 2022. The extended period also focused on an added output: Strengthened capacity and coordination of justice sector institutions to better justice delivery and remedies to all citizens, including Leave No One Behind (LNOB) people.

Mentionable that, in order to overcome the challenges of the implementation of SDGs, particularly, to attain the SDG 16- the promotion of peace, justice, and strong institutions – an initiative has also been taken to formulate another programme, titled Strengthening Institutions, Policies and Services (SIPS) Programme. With support of SDC, the programme aims to assist the country in achieving SDG 16 by:

- Strengthening public institutions that can contribute to fulfilling national and international commitments and provide better service delivery;
- Creating a positive policy environment that embeds the SDGs’ core principle of “leave no one behind”;
- Promoting new capabilities and leveraging technology and innovation for more effective and inclusive governance and public service delivery.

It will be implemented by UNDP in partnership with public institutions, preferably the SDG Coordination Cell (SDGCC) and the Governance Innovation Unit (GIU) of the Prime Minister’s Office (PMO), the Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics (BBS), the National Human Rights Commission (NHRC), the Parliament and the Anti-Corruption Commission (ACC) and Information Commission (InfoCom).

Project dates	Start	Planned end
	01 January 2016 (as per ProDoc)	30 June 2022
Project budget	$ 10,597,570
Project expenditure at the time of evaluation	$74,90,903
Funding source	SDC, SIDA, DANIDA,
Responsible Parties	UNDP

Currently, the project is running at the ultimate stage of its tenure and achieved several key results as planned. The first 18 months' Inception phase review (mid-term review) was completed in 2018 and the assessment concluded that all the components of the Programme continued to be relevant for strengthening human rights architectures in Bangladesh. It continued to require UNDP and/or international support to carry forward the ongoing human rights advocacy in Bangladesh. The Human Rights Programme is scheduled to end in June 2022 and built upon the key results and achievements so far, UNDP aims to formulate a new project document for the next phase of the programme (2023-2028). It is to be mentioned, that the final evaluation of the project is being carried out and will be completed in August 2022.

In the view of the above, UNDP is seeking for a consultant (international consultant) to conduct the final evaluation of HRP.

C. Evaluation Purpose, Objectives, and Scope:

Purpose:

The purpose of the final evaluation is to assess achievements to date, document lessons learned, and propose ways forward to UNDP and its partners to develop future Human Rights Programme (HRP) in Bangladesh. Responding to the Theory of Change (ToC) as described in the project document, the agreed results and resources framework (RRF), and the approved workplans, the Final evaluations should look at the relevance of the project, quality of the project design, effectiveness, and efficiency of the implementation to date, sustainability of the overall project results, impact of intervention made to date, and forward-looking directions for future.

Evaluation results will be key inputs for UNDP and its partners to develop the next phase of the Human Rights Programme and make informed decisions. In addition, the evaluation aims at critically reviewing and identifying what has worked well in the project, what challenges have been faced, what lessons can be learned to improve future HRP programming. The evaluation will also generate knowledge for wider uses, assess the scope for scaling up the current programme, and serve as a quality assurance tool for both upward and downward accountability.

Specific Objectives:

The specific objectives of this evaluation are to:

- assess project performance and progress against the expected outcome, expected outputs, targets, including indicators presented in the RRF
- identify challenges and the effectiveness and efficiency of the strategic approaches that the project adopted for addressing challenges
- assess both negative and positive factors that have facilitated or hampered progress in achieving the project outcomes, including external factors/environment, weakness in design, management and resource allocation;
- ascertain the relevance, effectiveness, efficiency, and sustainability of the project interventions
- identify and document substantive lessons learned and good practices and draw out lessons for deepening impact
- assess the effectiveness of the project's engagement with diverse stakeholders including the government, the NHRC Bangladesh, CSOs, human rights defenders, and other rights-holder groups in advancing human rights architecture in Bangladesh
- provide forward looking recommendations to inform the future designing of UNDP's work on Human Rights in Bangladesh including on SDG 16
- outline recommendations, including potential realignments in scope and approach for designing the next phase of the project

The evaluation will focus on six key evaluation criteria: relevance, efficiency, effectiveness, impact, sustainability, and coherence. The evaluation should provide credible, useful, evidence-based information which enables timely incorporation of its findings, recommendations and lessons into decision-making processes of UNDP and key stakeholders as well as assess the potential of the next phase of the project.

Scope of Evaluation/ Timing:

This final evaluation covers the project implementation period from 28 April 2016 (the beginning of the HRP) to 31 March 2022. The final evaluation is expected to commence on 1 April 2022. At this moment, HRP is scheduled to end on 30 June 2022.

Utilization:

The primary users of the evaluation results will be UNDP, but the evaluation results will equally be useful to NHRC Bangladesh, other relevant ministries, development partners and donors.

UNDP will consider all useful findings, conclusions, and recommendations from the final evaluation, prepare a systematic management response for each recommendation and implement follow-up actions as per UNDP Evaluation Resource Center guidance/policies.

D. Scope of Work and Timeline:

The evaluation team consists of one international consultant (evaluator) and one national consultant (evaluator). The international consultant will serve as a team leader. The scope of work for the international consultant will include but not be limited to:

- lead an overall process of evaluation as a team leader;
- collect data/information through literature review;

- draft and finalize the inception report that will include detailed evaluation methodologies and the elaboration of the evaluation matrix (how each evaluation question will be answered along with proposed sources of data, and data collection and analysis procedures);
- design data collection tools (i.e., checklists/semi-structured questionnaires, develop guides for focus group discussions and interviews);
- attend Key Informant Interviews (KIIs) and stakeholder consultations, if organized virtually;
- provide technical guidance to a national evaluator on field-level data collection remotely;
- conduct data analysis on data/ information collected, including triangulation;
- develop a draft final evaluation report;
- organize a meeting to share draft findings with UNDP and relevant stakeholders to solicit feedback and incorporate to finalize the report
- revise the draft report to address necessary feedback;
- finalize a final evaluation report

Phase	Scope of work of the consultant	Number of Days	Timing
Inception Phas	This phase is meant to ensure that the consultant is fully prepared before undertaking data collection. It includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Prepare the work plan with clear timeline of how each final evaluation steps will be undertaken • Conduct desk review of existing documents, including the project document, strategies developed by the project, reports and documents developed by the project, and write-ups on the project initiatives; • Draft an inception report, including detailed evaluation methodology covering both quantitative and qualitative dimensions, with a detailed list of required stakeholders who need to be interviewed, evaluation matrix, timeline, and data collection tools; • Develop data collection tools (i.e. KII/FGD checklists and semi-structured questionnaires); • Organize an inception meeting to solicit feedback; • Revise and finalize the inception report and data collection tools The inception report should include a proposed schedule of tasks, activities, and deliverables, building on what has been provisionally proposed in this ToR. The inception report should be drafted by the consultant before going into the full-fledged final evaluation exercise. It should detail the reviewing approach, proposed format, and table of contents of the final evaluation report. It must also outline reviewers' understanding of what is being reviewed and why, showing how each area of inquiry will be answered by way of: proposed methods; proposed sources of data; and data collection procedures. The inception report should include the Evaluation Matrix. The matrix should include key evaluation criteria, indicators, questions, and sub-questions to capture and assess them.	7 Days	Within 2 weeks of signing the contract

Data Collection Phase	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Attend KIIs and stakeholder consultations as required; Consult with relevant UNDP staff, including the management; Provide technical guidance to a national evaluator on field-level data collection remotely; Provide debriefing to the UNDP CO and the stakeholders on the key findings 	3 Days	Within 6 weeks of signing the contract
Reporting Phase	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Triangulate/ analyze findings from desk review, stakeholders interview, KIIs and FGDs; Prepare a draft final evaluation report; Revise the draft evaluation report to incorporate comments and feedback; Finalize and submit a final evaluation report The draft final evaluation report will be reviewed by UNDP CO and relevant teams/colleagues to ensure that it meets the required quality standards and covers all agreed components and contents of the financial evaluation. Detailed comments and feedback on the draft report will be provided to the consultant, and discussions may be held to provide clarifications as necessary. The draft report will also be shared with stakeholders and other partners for additional feedback and inputs. The evaluator should submit a comprehensive draft report consisting of major findings and recommendations for future course of action. The final evaluation report will be produced by the Consultant based on feedback received on the draft report. The final report will be shared with the donor, stakeholders and other relevant partners. The final draft report should be submitted within the given timeline with enough detail and quality.	15 Days	Within 12 weeks of signing the contract

E. Evaluation Questions:

The evaluation questions define the information that must be generated as a result of the evaluation process. The answers will provide the key basis to the intended users of the evaluation in making informed decisions, taking actions, or adding knowledge. Evaluation questions include but are not limited to:

Relevance of the project: The extent to which the objective, purpose and outcomes of the project are consistent with the needs and interests of the people and the needs of the country.

- To what extent was the HRP design relevant in helping the NHRC, LEAs, CSOs and other key stakeholders to better protect the human rights of all people in Bangladesh?
- To what extent was the design and strategy of the HRP relevant to national priorities, UN priorities, NHRC Strategic Plan in Bangladesh?
- To what extent was the design and strategy of the HRP aligned with CPD (2017-2021) and UNDAF (2017-2021)?
- To what extent did the HRP align itself with the National Development Strategies and/or the UNDAF Bangladesh?
- To what extent was the theory of change applied in the HRP relevant to serve the needs of the country?
- To what extent the overall design and approaches of the project were relevant?
- To what extent, the inputs and strategies identified were realistic, appropriate and adequate to achieve the results?
- To what extent did the project achieve its overall outputs? Are the project's contributions to the outcome clear?
- To what extent does the project contribute to gender equality and women's empowerment?
- To assess whether the results achieved had a differentiated impact on women and other vulnerable groups?
- To what extent has the project been appropriately responsive to COVID-19 pandemic as well as other political, legal, economic, institutional changes in Bangladesh?

Effectiveness: Extent to which the outcomes of the development intervention have been achieved

- To what extent has the project achieved the objectives and targets of the results framework in the Project Document? (See annex 1: Result framework)
- Compared to 2015, to what extent do the NHRC, LEAs, CSOs and other key stakeholders now better serve and protect the human rights of all people in Bangladesh? To what extent are any changes linked to HRP interventions?
- What factors contributed to the achievement or non-achievement of the HRP outcomes and outputs?
- To what extent and in what ways has ownership - or the lack of it - by the implementing partner impacted the effectiveness of the HRP?
- To what extent and in what ways did the 18-months inception survey recommendations contribute to the HRP's achievement of development results?
- To what extent the project activities were delivered effectively in terms of quality, quantity, and timing?
- What are the key internal and external factors (success & failure factors) that have contributed, affected, or impeded the achievements, and how UNDP and the partners have managed these factors?
- In which areas does the project have the greatest achievements? Why and what have been the supporting factors? How can the project build on or expand these achievements?
- In which areas does the project have the fewest achievements? What have been the constraining factors and why? How can or could they be overcome? To what extent have stakeholders been involved in project implementation? To what extent are project management and implementation participatory?

Efficiency: Extent to which resources/inputs (funds, time, human resources, etc.) have been turned into results.

- To what extent were the HRP outputs delivered in time to ensure high quality?
- To what extent has HRP ensured value for money?
- To what extent is the existing project management structure appropriate and efficient in generating the expected results?
- To what extent were resource mobilization efforts successful? Was funding sufficient for the achievement of results? (funding analysis)
- Was the process of achieving results efficient? Were the resources effectively utilized?
- To what extent and in what ways has ownership - or the lack of it - by the implementing partner impacted the efficiency of the HRP?
- To what extent was there any identified synergy between UNDP initiatives/projects that contributed to reducing costs while supporting results?
- Did the project activities overlap, and duplicate other similar interventions funded nationally, and/or by other donors?
- To what extent did project M&E systems provide management with a stream of data that allowed it to learn and adjust implementation accordingly?

Sustainability: Probability of the benefits of the intervention continuing in the long term

- To what extent will the HRP achievements be sustained? What are the indicators of sustainability for these achievements, e.g., through requisite capacities (systems, structures, staff, etc.)? What are the challenges and opportunities?
- What is the likelihood of the continuation and sustainability of national level dialogues engaging various stakeholders and strengthening human rights architecture in Bangladesh?
- Describe key factors that will require attention to improve the prospects of sustainability of project outcomes and the potential for replication of the approach?
- To what extent are policy and regulatory frameworks in place that will support the continuation of HRP?
- To what extent are the institutional mechanisms in place to sustain the impacts of HRP's interventions?
- To what extent have development partners committed to providing continuing support? To what extent will financial and economic resources as well as political will be available to sustain the benefits achieved by the project?
- Are there any social or political risks that may jeopardize the sustainability of project outputs and the project's contributions to country programme outputs and outcomes?

Coherence: How well does the intervention fit?

- To what extent do other interventions (including policies) support or undermine the intervention and vice versa? It includes internal coherence and external coherence.

Impact:

- To what extent have the relevant institutions served and protected the rights of the citizens, especially the women and minorities?
- How far have the citizens especially women and minorities been empowered to claim their rights?

Cross-Cutting Issues:

Human rights and gender aspects will be considered well in evaluation questions as well the evaluation process. Gender analysis, including gender-disaggregated data, need to be incorporated in the evaluation.

Human Rights:

- To what extent have NHRC's institutional capacities been strengthened to deliver its mandates from the interventions of HRP?
- To what extent have CSOs/CBOs/CSO coalitions' capacities been strengthened in awareness-raising and promoting human rights from the interventions of HRP?
- To what extent have Law Enforcing Agencies/police capacities been strengthened in upholding and promoting human rights from the interventions of HRP?
- To what extent have NHRC and national stakeholders' capacities been strengthened in promoting and protecting the rights of ethnic minorities/indigenous peoples from the interventions of HRP?
- To what extent have poor, indigenous/ethnic minorities, excluded groups and PWDs, women, children, youths and other marginalized and disadvantaged groups benefitted from the interventions of HRP?

Women Rights & Gender Equality:

- To what extent have NHRC and other national stakeholders' capacities been strengthened in better promoting and protecting women's rights from the interventions of HRP?
- To what extent have gender equality and the empowerment of women been addressed in the design, implementation and monitoring of the project?
- Is there gender marker data assigned to this project representative of reality?
- To what extent has the project promoted positive changes in gender equality and the empowerment of women? Were there any unintended effects?

Lessons Learned/ Way forward:

- Have any good practices, success stories, lessons learned, or transferable examples been identified? Please describe and document them.
- Based on the achievements to date, provide forward-looking programmatic recommendations for UNDP support to the NHRC, LEAs, CSOs and other key stakeholders. What could be the potential programmatic modality and focus as a strategic way forward after the current project end date?

Cross-Cutting Issues:

- Human rights and gender aspects will be considered well in evaluation questions as well the evaluation process. Gender analysis, including gender-disaggregated data, need to be incorporated in the evaluation.

F. Methodology

The evaluation team is expected to propose and determine a sound evaluation design and methodology (including detailed methodology to answer each evaluation question) and submit it to UNDP in the inception report following a review of all key relevant documents and meetings with representatives of UNDP, HRP and NHRC. It is suggested that the evaluation should use a mixed-method approach – collecting and analyzing both qualitative and quantitative data using multiple sources in order to draw valid and evidence-based findings and conclusions and practical recommendations. The evaluation team is highly expected to review all relevant reports/documents providing qualitative/ quantitative data collected by HRP, UNDP, NHRC, Government, or other agencies. The evaluation team shall follow a participatory and consultative approach that ensures close engagement with the evaluation stakeholders, implementing partners and male and female direct beneficiaries.

The evaluation team also needs to develop an evaluation matrix (template is attached in Annex 3 of this ToR) to clarify what types of data will be required to respond to which evaluation question and how those data will be collected.

Final decisions about the specific design and methods for the evaluation will be made through consultation among the HRP, UNDP, consultants, and key stakeholders about what is appropriate and feasible to meet the evaluation purpose and objectives as well as answer the evaluation questions, given limitations of budget, time and data.

While an international evaluator shall work from home remotely, a national evaluator is expected to conduct field-level data collection using different data collection methods unless the COVID-19 pandemic situation becomes severe in Bangladesh. An international evaluator is expected to remotely provide technical guidance to a national evaluator on field-level data collection.

The field-level data should be collected through 2 to 3 field trips covering a total of approximately 10 days. The potential locations for the field travel may include the following districts: Dhaka, Manikganj, Rajshahi, Dinajpur, Khulna, Jessore, Barishal, Cox's Bazar, Mymensingh, Moulvi Bazar, Madaripur, Gaibandha, Habiganj, Satkhira, Sirajganj and Rangpur, etc. - where different interventions under HRP projects have been implemented. The national evaluator shall collect qualitative and quantitative data from direct beneficiaries and relevant government and non-government stakeholders in the field.

Details of field-level data collection, including locations, timelines, and the number of field visits shall be proposed by the consultants in the inception report and will be determined during the inception phase of evaluation in consultation with UNDP and relevant stakeholders. Given the COVID-19 pandemic, field-level data collection will be conducted if there is no harm to an evaluator and all stakeholders in the field.

Data collection tools, including KII and FGD checklists/semi-structured questionnaires, need to be developed and used in the field-level data collection.

Methods to be used by the evaluation team to collect and analyze the required data shall include but not limited to:

- Desk Review: This should include a review of inter alia as data sources
 - Project Document (ProDoc)
 - Result Framework/M&E Framework
 - Project Quality Assurance Report
 - Annual Work Plans
 - Annual Reports
 - Highlights of Project Board meetings
 - Inception phase survey report
 - Progress Reports of COVID-19 supporting activities.
 - Meeting minutes of Project Advisory Board (PAB) and Project Implementation Committee (PIC)
 - Database
 - CCA (Common Country Assessment), UNSDCF, UNDP CPD and studies relating to the country context and situation
- Key Informant Interviews (KIIs) with key stakeholders including NHRC, development partners, CSOs, youths, HRDs, government agencies, donors, UN Agencies and so on:
 - Development of evaluation questions around relevance, effectiveness, efficiency and sustainability and designed for different stakeholders to be interviewed.
 - All interviews should be undertaken in full confidence and anonymity. The final evaluation report should not assign specific comments of individuals.
- Focus Group Discussions (FGDs) with relevant stakeholders/rights holders/duty bearers from government agencies, grassroots and national level civil society organizations, indigenous peoples' organizations, indigenous/ethnic minorities, excluded groups and PWDs, women, children, youths and other marginalized and disadvantaged groups, beneficiaries, both at national and local levels.
- Field visits/observation to selected project sites and validation of the key tangible outputs and interventions.
- Data review and analysis of monitoring and other data sources and methods: ensure maximum validity, reliability of data (quality) and promote use; the evaluation team will ensure triangulation of the various data sources.
- Gender and human rights lens. All evaluation products need to address gender, disability, and human rights issues
- Analysis of HRP's budgets and expenditures generated from Atlas.
- Analysis and interpretation of qualitative and quantitative data available from various credible sources.

The current situation of the COVID-19 crisis in the country needs to be considered when proposing data collection tools. In case if the COVID-19 pandemic does not allow field-level data collection, the evaluation team should develop a methodology that takes into account the conduct of the evaluation virtually and remotely, including the use of remote interview methods and extended desk reviews, data analysis, surveys and evaluation questionnaires. The evaluation team is expected to present alternative means of data collection as viable options. This should be detailed in the inception report and agreed with UNDP and relevant stakeholders during the inception phase. No stakeholders, consultants, or UNDP staff should be put in harm's way and safety is the key priority.

Data and evidence will be triangulated with multiple sources to address evaluation questions. The final methodological approach, including the interview schedule and data to be used in the evaluation, should be clearly outlined in the inception report and fully discussed and agreed upon between UNDP, stakeholders and the consultants.

The final methodological approach including interview schedule, field visits and data to be used in the evaluation should be clearly outlined in the inception report and fully discussed and agreed upon between UNDP, stakeholders and the consultants.

Gender and Human Rights-based Approach

As part of the requirement, the evaluation must include an assessment of the extent to which the design, implementation, and results of the project have incorporated a gender equality perspective and a rights-based approach. The evaluators are requested to review UNEG's Guidance in Integrating Human Rights and Gender Equality in Evaluation during the inception phase².

In addition, the methodology used in the final evaluation, including data collection and analysis methods should be human rights and gender-sensitive to the greatest extent possible, with evaluation data and findings disaggregated by sex, ethnicity, age, etc. Detailed analysis on disaggregated data will be undertaken as part of the final evaluation from which findings are consolidated to make recommendations and identify lessons learned for the enhanced gender-responsive and rights-based approach of the project.

This evaluation approach and methodology should consider different types of groups in the project intervention – women, youth, minorities, and vulnerable groups. Persons with disabilities (PwD) also need to be considered in the evaluation, following the new UNDP evaluation report checklist.

Evaluation questions shall extensively cover gender and human rights aspects (in Section E. Evaluation Questions of the ToR).

Evaluation Ethics

This evaluation will be conducted in accordance with the principles outlined in the UNEG 'Ethical Guidelines for Evaluation'³. The consultant must safeguard the rights and confidentiality of information providers, interviewees, and stakeholders through measures to ensure compliance with legal and other relevant codes governing the collection of data and reporting on data. The consultant must also ensure the security of collected information before and after the evaluation and protocols to ensure anonymity and confidentiality of sources of information where that is expected. The information knowledge and data gathered in the evaluation process must also be solely used for the evaluation and not for other uses with the express authorization of UNDP and partners. Signed 'Pledge of Ethical Conduct in Evaluation of the United Nations System' needs to be attached in the Annex of the final evaluation report. A template can be downloaded from the link below on the footnote⁴. The evaluation team may refer to UNDP's Dispute and wrongdoing resolution process and contact details ⁵ (Annex 3 of Section 4: Evaluation Implementation and Use of UNDP Evaluation Guidelines (2021), p. 55).

² UNEG's Guidance in Integrating Human Rights and Gender Equality in Evaluation, available at http://www.uneval.org/papersandpubs/documentdetail.jsp?doc_id=980

G. Expected Deliverables

As part of an evaluation team, an international evaluator will be responsible for completing the following outputs/deliverables to UNDP Bangladesh as per the agreed work plan:

i. Inception Report:

The evaluators will commence the evaluation process with a desk review and preliminary analysis of the available information provided by UNDP. Based on the ToR, after initial meetings with the UNDP and the desk review, the evaluators should develop an inception report which will elaborate evaluation methodologies, including how each evaluation question will be answered along with proposed methods, proposed sources of data, and data collection and analysis procedures. The inception report will include the evaluation matrix using the template provided in Annex 3 and will also include a proposed timeline of activities and submission of deliverables. UNDP and NHRC will review the inception report and provide comments for improvement. This report will serve as an initial point of agreement and understanding between the evaluation team and UNDP/NHRC.

ii. Draft Evaluation Report:

The evaluation report will contain the same sections as the final report and shall follow the structure outlined in Annex 3/ Evaluation Report Template and Quality Standards (Page 56-60) of Section 4/ Evaluation Implementation and Use of UNDP Evaluation Guidelines (2021)⁶. The draft report will be reviewed by the HRP, NHRC and UNDP. The draft report will ensure that each evaluation question is answered with an in-depth analysis of information and back up the arguments with credible quantitative and/or qualitative evidence.

The evaluation report will be quality assessed by UNDP Bangladesh Country Office and UNDP Independent Evaluation Office (IEO). Details of the IEO's quality assessment of decentralized evaluations can be found in Section 6 (Page 9-13) of the UNDP Evaluation Guidelines⁷. The evaluators consider it carefully while drafting the evaluation report.

iii. Presentation/Debriefing:

A meeting will be organized with key stakeholders including UNDP and NHRC to present findings, conclusions and recommendations.

iv. Final Evaluation Report/ Data Collection Tools/ Audit Trail:

The final report will incorporate comments and feedback from the stakeholders including the feedback provided during the Presentation/Debriefing meeting. All comments and an evaluator’s response to each comment need to record in Audit Trail. Other relevant documents (i.e. data collection tools, checklists questionnaires, datasets (if any)) need to be submitted as well.

H. Price Proposal and Schedule of Payments

A consultant must send a financial proposal based on a Lump Sum Amount. The total amount quoted shall be all-inclusive and include all costs components required to perform the deliverables identified in the TOR, including professional fee, travel costs, living allowance (if any work is to be done outside the IC’s duty station) and any other applicable cost to be incurred by the IC in completing the assignment. The contract price will be a fixed output-based price regardless of the extension of the herein specified duration. Payments will be done upon completion of the deliverables/outputs and as per the below percentages:

The expected outputs, deliverables and payment schedule is as follows:

Deliverables/ Outputs	Estimated Working Days	Tentative Due Dates	Payment Schedule	Review and Approvals Required
Submission of Inception Report, including a detailed methodology note, evaluation matrix, and desk review and preliminary analysis of the available information provided by UNDP	7 days	25 May 2022	20%	CTA, HRP, UNDP Bangladesh Deputy Resident Representative, UNDP Bangladesh
Completion of data collection and submission of draft Evaluation Report addressing all evaluation questions and Provision of presentation/ debriefing	13 days	25 July 2022	50%	Head of DG Cluster, UNDP Bangladesh
Submission of final Evaluation Report, which has been approved and accepted, together with data collection tools, questionnaires, datasets (if any), and audit trails	5 days	10 August 2022	30%	M&E Specialist, UNDP Bangladesh

Deliverables/ Outputs	Estimated Working Days	Tentative Due Dates	Payment Schedule	Review and Approvals Required
Total days consultant wise	25 days

I. Travel:

An international consultant is not required to travel to Bangladesh due to the current COVID-19 pandemic. This is a home-based consultancy. All tasks shall be done remotely in collaboration with a national consultant and in consultation with UNDP and stakeholders. Travel costs shall not be included in the financial proposal.

J. Implementation Arrangement, Supervision and Performance Evaluation:

The evaluation team will independently conduct the evaluation but shall take necessary assistance from HRP and UNDP. The Deputy Resident Representative and Assistant Resident Representative, UNDP Bangladesh, will be responsible for managing the evaluation throughout the entire process. The HRP team led by Chief Technical Advisor will provide necessary support in the evaluation's day-to-day operation. The evaluation team will also seek technical guidance from Programme Analyst at UNDP Democratic Governance cluster and M&E Specialist/Analyst at UNDP Bangladesh Country Office. The final evaluation report needs to be cleared by the M&E Specialist/Analyst at UNDP Bangladesh Country Office and approved by the Deputy Resident Representative, UNDP Bangladesh, and RBM/ M&E focal point, UNDP Bangkok Regional Hub.

2. Evaluation Team Composition and Required Competencies

A. Team Composition:

The evaluation team consists of one international consultant (evaluator) and one national consultant (evaluator). An international evaluator shall serve as a team leader, while a national evaluator will take more on a supporting role.

An international evaluator shall be responsible for managing the overall evaluation process as a team lead, including evaluation design and implementation. Although an international evaluator works remotely due to the COVID-19 pandemic, s/he is expected to closely communicate with the national evaluator. While a national evaluator shall be in charge of data collection in the field, the international evaluator is also expected to attend the meetings with the stakeholders if the meetings are conducted virtually. And the international evaluator shall also provide technical guidance/support to the national evaluator on the field-level data collection remotely. The international evaluator shall take the lead in the preparation and finalization of an evaluation report with the national evaluator and ensure the quality of the report, incorporating feedback/ inputs from all relevant stakeholders.

A detailed workplan, including the division of labor needs to be included in the inception report and will be discussed with UNDP and key stakeholders during the inception phase.

B. Qualifications:

3. Evaluation of the proposal proposals

Evaluation Method and Criteria

Individual consultants will be evaluated based on the following methodology:

Cumulative analysis

The award of the contract shall be made to the individual consultant whose offer has been evaluated and determined as a) responsive/compliant/acceptable; and b) having received the highest score out of a set of weighted technical criteria (70%). and financial criteria (30%). The financial score shall be computed as a ratio of the proposal being evaluated and the lowest priced proposal received by UNDP for the assignment.

Technical Criteria for Evaluation for International Consultant (Maximum 70 points)

Criteria	Weight	Max. Point
Technical	70%	70
A masters' degree or equivalent (Ph. D. an asset) in human rights, statistics, international relations, social sciences, political economy or other relevant fields.	5%	5
At least 7 years of experience in the design and evaluation of development programmes or projects in the area of human rights, governance, public policy, rule of law, and/or development.	25%	25

Professional experiences in conducting evaluations or assessments of large-scale policies and programs in human rights and justice funded by the government, UN and/or donors.	30%	30
Good knowledge of UN and/or UNDP's mandate and socio-political context and human rights situation in the region.	10%	10
Financial	30%	30
Total	100%	100 points

Only candidates obtaining a minimum of 49 points (70% of the total technical points) would be considered for the Financial Evaluation.

Financial Evaluation (Total 30 marks)

All technical qualified proposals will be scored out of 30 based on the formula provided below. The maximum points (30) will be assigned to the lowest financial proposal. All other proposals received points according to the following formula:

$$p = y(\mu/z)$$

Where:

- p = points for the financial proposal being evaluated;
- y = maximum number of points for the financial proposal;
- μ = price of the lowest-priced proposal;
- z = price of the proposal being evaluated.

DOCUMENTS TO BE INCLUDED WHEN SUBMITTING THE PROPOSALS

Interested individual consultants must submit the following documents/information to demonstrate their qualifications:

Annex 2: Theory of Change

The Human Rights Programme in Bangladesh is based on a theory of change of how UNDP can apply its mandate, neutrality, international norms and standards, democratic governance capacity development, knowledge and longstanding experience, to generate sustainable and long-lasting change in the promotion, protection and awareness of human rights across national institutions, law enforcement and society, with a particular focus on women and ethnic minorities.

In order to measure results, it is essential to be clear about the changes that are expected and the pathway to get there. Articulating the theory of change helps to do that. The theory of change is grounded in the UN's Human Rights Based Approach (HRBA). National institutions bear a duty to uphold human rights for all. The Human Rights Programme aims to support and strengthen the capacities of key state institutions so the state can meet their obligations as duty bearers. At the same time, the programme will work to include and empower people to advocate for their rights, as right-holders.

Problem statement:

Bangladesh has made significant progress across a number of key development indicators. However, weak governance and limited capacity has held back efforts in justice and human rights, especially amongst excluded groups. Sustainable development cannot be achieved where there are serious and systematic human rights abuses, as peace, stability and the rule of law are undermined. The effective protection and promotion of human rights at the national level requires human rights compliant legal frameworks and well-functioning state institutions.

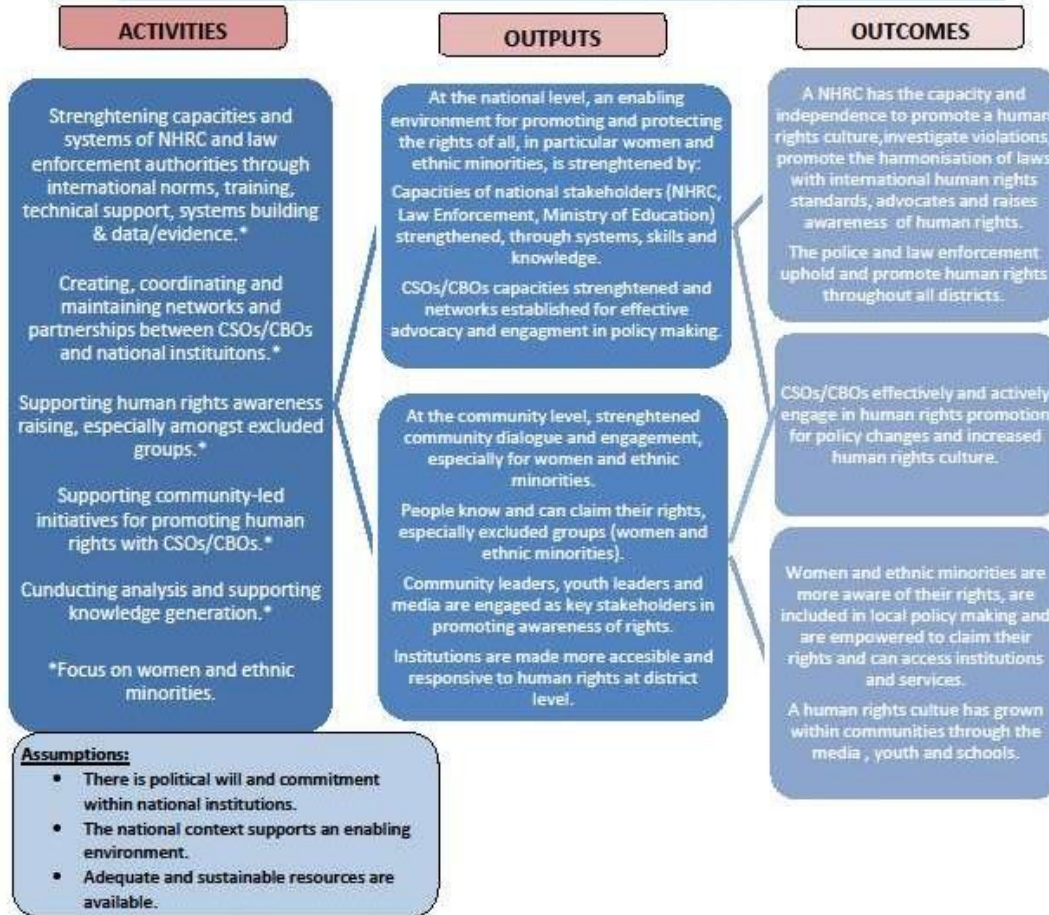

The Bangladesh National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) is a relatively new institution (established in 2009) and has an important mandate and a key role to play for the promotion and protection of human rights. The NHRC has made significant strides towards establishing itself as Bangladesh's independent human rights institution. However, it is recognized that capacities need further strengthening, partnerships and networks need to be reinforced and expanded and the availability of sufficient and sustainable resources are necessary in order to carry out its mandate.

Having a human rights legal framework is not alone sufficient to ensure that all have their rights respected. If people, especially vulnerable and excluded groups, like women and ethnic minorities, are not aware of their rights and cannot access justice or services, their rights will remain unfulfilled. Therefore, human rights awareness raising and inclusion, especially amongst vulnerable groups and representative CSOs/CBOs/HRDs, can ensure that these groups are more empowered to claim their rights. Furthermore, law enforcement and the police play an indispensable role in protecting human rights and maintaining the rule of law. In order to fulfill this role, law enforcement officials need to know and apply human rights standards and be held accountable for violations.

Overall vision of success:

By 2020, institutions will more effectively serve and protect the rights of all citizens; and all people, especially women and ethnic minorities, are empowered to claim their rights.

THEORY OF CHANGE: UNDP Human Rights Programme Bangladesh (2016-2020)

By 2020, institutions more effectively serve and protect the rights of all citizens, and all people, especially women and ethnic minorities, are empowered to claim their rights.
