The Final Evaluation of The Joint Programme to Address Violence Against Women

English - November 2012
TOR FOR FINAL EVALUATIONS OF MDG-F JP VAW

1. GENERAL CONTEXT:

1.1. MDG ACHIEVEMENT FUND (MDG-F)

In December 2006, the UNDP and the Government of Spain signed a major partnership agreement for the amount of €528 million with the aim of contributing to progress on the MDGs and other development goals through the United Nations System. In addition, on 24 September 2008 Spain pledged €90 million towards the launch of a thematic window on Childhood and Nutrition. The MDG-F supports joint programmes that seek replication of successful pilot experiences and impact in shaping public policies and improving peoples’ life in 50 countries by accelerating progress towards the Millennium Development Goals and other key development goals.

The MDG-F operates through the UN teams in each country, promoting increased coherence and effectiveness in development interventions through collaboration among UN agencies. The Fund uses a joint programme mode of intervention and has currently approved 130 joint programmes in 50 countries. These reflect eight thematic windows that contribute in various ways towards progress on the MDGs, National Ownership and UN reform.

The MDG-F Monitoring and Evaluation Strategy

A result oriented monitoring and evaluation (M&E) strategy is under implementation in order to track and measure the overall impact of this historic contribution to the MDGs and to multilateralism. The MDG-F M&E strategy is based on the principles and standards of UNEG and OECD/DAC regarding evaluation quality and independence. The strategy builds on the information needs and interests of the different stakeholders while pursuing a balance between their accountability and learning purposes.

The strategy’s main objectives are:

1. To support joint programmes to attain development results.
2. To determine the worth and merit of joint programmes and measure their contribution to the 3 MDG-F objectives, MDG, Paris Declaration and Delivering as one.
3. To obtain and compile evidence based knowledge and lessons learned to scale up and replicate successful development interventions.

Under the MDG-F M&E strategy and Programme Implementation Guidelines, each programme team is responsible for designing an M&E system, establishing baselines for (quantitative and qualitative) indicators and conducting a final evaluation with a summative focus.

The MDG-F Secretariat also commissioned mid-term evaluations for all joint programmes with a formative focus. Additionally, a total of nine-focus country evaluations (Ethiopia, Mauritania, Morocco, Timor-Leste, Philippines, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Colombia, Honduras and Ecuador) are planned to study more in depth the effects of joint programmes in a country context.
1.2 JP VAW in Bangladesh

The Joint Programme addressing violence against women in Bangladesh (JP VAW) combines the efforts of 11 ministries (Ministry of Information; Ministry of Social Welfare; Ministry of Youth and Sports; Ministry of Women and Children Affairs; Ministry of Religious Affairs; Ministry of Education; Ministry of Law, Justice and Parliamentary Affairs; Ministry of Expatriates’ Welfare and Overseas Employment; Ministry of Local Government, Rural Development and Cooperatives (Local Government Division); Ministry of Health and Family Welfare; Ministry of Labor and Employment) and 9 UN agencies (UNFPA, UNWOMEN, UNICEF, UNDP, IOM, UNAIDS, ILO, UNESCO and WHO) towards the elimination of all kinds of violence against women in the country. The creation of the JP VAW took about four years. The approval date of the JP was 10 December 2009 with a programme budget of $7,997,378. Funds were received on 14 April 2010 (first disbursement) which is also the starting date of the programme. The first year of the programme was centered on the development and finalization of Technical Project Proposals (TPPs) or work plans between GoB and the respective UN agencies, and an Inception Workshop was organized on 19-20 January, 2011. Thorough coordination mechanisms were set in place from August 2011. The three year JP VAW programme (2010-2012) received a 6 months no-cost extension due to late start, and will close on June 30, 2013.

The JP has three specific outcomes directly contributing to the UNDAF-Bangladesh pillar 7 outcome II “social and institutional vulnerabilities of women including the marginalized and disadvantaged reduced” which subsequently leads to improved human security and poverty reduction. The JP VAW has the following three outcomes and seven outputs;

OC1: Policies and legal framework aimed at preventing violence against women (VAW), protecting and supporting survivors adopted, implemented and monitored (ILO/WHO/UNFPA/UNWOMEN)

OC1, Output 1: Enhanced capacity of GOB officials and civil society to implement CEDAW

OC1, Output 2: Capacity strengthened for implementation of laws and policies aimed at preventing VAW and protecting the victims

OC1, Output 3: Information systems on VAW improved

OC2: Social attitudes and behaviour changes effected to reduce VAW and discriminatory practices (ILO/IOM/UNAIDS/UNESCO/UNDP/UNFPA/UNWOMEN)

OC2, Output 1: Strengthened advocacy and public awareness on VAW

OC2, Output 2: Established a national network of gatekeepers and stakeholders to prevent VAW and protect the victims of VAW

OC2, Output 3: Develop the capacity of gatekeepers and stakeholders for preventing VAW

OC3: Conducive environment created, and capacities enhanced for providing support to women and girls vulnerable to/have survived, violence (IOM/UNAIDS/UNFPA/UNICEF)

OC3, Output 1: Increased availability of and access for victims of VAW to shelter, medical, psychological, legal support and vocational training

The programme mainly aims to impact on the MDG 3 (Gender Equality) but interventions supported under the programme contribute to other MDGs as well:
- reducing poverty (MDG 1) by addressing the feminization of poverty;
- universal education (MDG 2) by revising the existing curriculum from a gender perspective;
- child and maternal health (MDGs 4 and 5) by facilitating access and quality of healthcare for women and girls; and
- Combating HIV/ AIDS (MDG 6) by addressing women’s vulnerability to HIV/ AIDS.

The JP VAW is fully aligned with GoB’s strategic priorities as expressed in its perspective plan 2010-2021 and the sixth five-year plan, thus ensures national ownership by the GoB and Civil Society in general. Non Government Organizations and Civil Society are placed at the core of the interventions. Moreover the JP VAW is making full use of the Paris Declaration on Aid Effectiveness and related harmonization instruments and modalities applicable to the UN system. The principles of cost-effectiveness and minimization of transaction costs guides the implementation of the JP VAW. Strong monitoring is ensuring that the highest standards in quality are followed by the programme.

The JP VAW programme is complex partly due to its number of partners (the biggest programme in Bangladesh ever in terms of partners) and its types of interventions. A summary of programme interventions are attached in Annex 1.

The JP VAW Result Framework (RF) was revised in July 2011, and the programme has since then followed the Revised Result Framework (RRF). The Mid-term Review was conducted in February 2012 with the final report on April 6, 2012. Now that the project enters its last 6 months of implementation, it is imperative to assess achievements and constraints to date and draw conclusions of project effectiveness, identify lessons learned and best practices, which will feed into the design of future interventions and/or strategic plans of GoB, UN agencies, and other partners. The commissioner of the evaluation is therefore seeking for high-qualified consultants to lead the final evaluation of this joint programme.

To supplement this evaluation, a formative study covering 9 indicators of the JP VAW programme was completed in July 2012. The study was meant to be a baseline study but due to its delay, it is considered to be a status update. The end line study of this project is planned to start from February 2013, followed by the final evaluation. Apart from this, ILO conducted a baseline survey in four selected sectors and a situation analysis of female migrants and domestic workers. UNWOMEN conducted a study on sexual harassment at tertiary level educational institutions, and UNESCO conducted an impact evaluation of its interventions. Apart from the studies / researches conducted under JP VAW, there are also some relevant national surveys such as Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics Gender Based Violence Survey 2011. The JP VAW decided not to include household survey collecting prevalence data in the above mentioned formative study due to time constraints and in order to avoid duplication as BBS 2011 data could be used to provide baseline values for some of the impact level indicators.

2. SCOPE OF THE EVALUATION AND SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES

The final evaluation will focus on measuring development results generated by the JP VAW, based on the scope and criteria included in this term of reference. The unit of analysis or object of study for this evaluation is the JP VAW, understood to be the set of components, outcomes, outputs, activities and inputs which were detailed in the JP VAW programme document and in associated modifications made during implementation.
This final evaluation has the following specific objectives:

1. Measure to what extent the JP VAW has contributed to solve the needs and problems identified in the design phase.

2. Measure the JP VAW’s degree of implementation, efficiency and quality delivered on outputs and outcomes, against what was originally planned or subsequently officially revised, and measure the interrelationship and dynamics of the multi partner efforts.

3. Measure to what extent the JP VAW has attained development results to the targeted population, beneficiaries, participants whether individuals, communities, institutions, etc, and consider individual partner contribution.

4. Identify and document substantive lessons learned, good practices and also opportunities for scaling up of the JP VAW in Bangladesh.

5. Measure how the development results addresses Bangladesh context and the commitments of Bangladesh, as well as the lead agency role of UNFPA.

6. Measure the joint programme contribution to the objectives set in their respective specific thematic windows as well as the overall MDG fund objectives at local and national level. (MDGs, Paris Declaration and Accra Principles and UN reform).

4. EVALUATION QUESTIONS, LEVELS OF ANALYSIS AND EVALUATION CRITERIA

The evaluation questions define the information that must be generated as a result of the evaluation process. The questions are grouped according to the criteria to be used in assessing and answering them. These criteria are, in turn, grouped according to the three levels of the programme.

Design level:

- Relevance: The extent to which the objectives of a development intervention are consistent with the needs and interest of the people, the needs of the country and the Millennium Development Goals.

  a) To what extent was the design and strategy of the development intervention relevant (assess including link to MDGs, UNDAF and national priorities, stakeholder participation, national ownership design process)?

  b) How much and in what ways did the JP VAW contribute to solve the (socio-economic) needs and problems identified in the design phase?

  c) To what extent was this programme designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated jointly? (see MDG-F joint programme guidelines.)

  d) To what extent was JP VAW the best option to respond to development challenges stated in the programme document?

  e) To what extent the implementing partners participating in JP VAW had an added value to solve the development challenges stated in the programme document?

  f) To what extent did JP VAW has a useful and reliable M&E strategy that contributed to measure development results?

  g) To what extent did this programme has a useful and reliable communication & advocacy strategy?

  b) To what extent was the implementation of JP VAW intervention (group of agencies) more efficient in comparison to what could have been through a single agency’s intervention?
  c) To what extent the governance of the fund at programme level (PMC) and at national level (NSC) contributed to efficiency and effectiveness of JP VAW? To what extent these governance structures were useful for development purposes, ownership, for working together as one? Did they enable management and delivery of outputs and results?
  d) To what extent and in what ways did JP VAW increase or reduce efficiency in delivering outputs and attaining outcomes?
  e) What type of work methodologies, financial instruments, and business practices have the implementing partners used to increase efficiency in delivering as one?
  f) What was the progress of the JP VAW in financial terms, indicating amounts committed and disbursed (total amounts & as percentage of total) by agency? Where there are large discrepancies between agencies, these should be analyzed.
  g) What type of (administrative, financial and managerial) obstacles did JP VAW face and to what extent have this affected its efficiency?
  h) To what extent and in what ways did the mid-term evaluation have an impact on JP VAW? Was it useful? Did this programme implement the improvement plan?

- Ownership in the process: Effective exercise of leadership by the country’s national/local partners in development interventions
  a) To what extent did the targeted population, citizens, participants, local and national authorities made the programme their own, taking an active role in it? What modes of participation (leadership) have driven the process?

d) To what extent did JP VAW align itself with the National Development Strategies and/or the UNDAF?

5. METHODOLOGICAL APPROACH

The methodological approach of the study is based on the set of components, outcomes, outputs, activities and inputs which were detailed in the JP VAW programme document and in associated modifications made during implementation. The methodology and techniques to be used in the evaluation should be described in detail in the inception report and the final evaluation report, and should contain, at minimum, information on the instruments used for data collection and analysis, whether these be documents, interviews, field visits, questionnaires or participatory techniques.

The methodology of the final evaluation will consist of three different phases:

a) Desk review:
   An initial desk review phase in order to become familiar with the program, its objectives, the challenges and context, and prepare an inception report with the theory of change to be presented and agreed with UN RC and UNFPA Bangladesh.

b) In-country visit
   A second phase consists of an in-country mission taking place in project sites. The in-country visit includes an inception meeting, first hand observation, interviews and discussion groups with key staff, national counterparts, partners and beneficiaries.

c) Preliminary report and validation process for final report
   A preliminary report will be shared with the JP VAW team for validation. A final report will be drafted which will take into consideration observations, corrections and suggestions made to the preliminary report.

6. EVALUATION DELIVERABLES

The consultant is responsible for submitting the following deliverables to the commissioner and the manager of the evaluation:

- Inception Report (to be submitted within 10 days of the submission of all programme documentation to the evaluation team).

This report will be 10 to 15 pages in length and will propose the methods, sources and procedures to be used for data collection. It will also include a proposed timeline of activities and submission of deliverables. This report will be used as an initial point of agreement and understanding between the consultant and the evaluation managers. The report will follow the outline stated in Annex 1.
• Draft Final Report (to be submitted within 10 days after the completion of the field visit)

The draft final report will contain the same sections as the final report (described in the next paragraph) and will be 20 to 30 pages in length. This report will be shared among the evaluation reference group. It will also contain an executive report of no more than 2 pages that includes a brief description of JP VAW, its context and current situation, the purpose of the evaluation, its methodology and its main findings, conclusions and recommendations. The draft final report will be shared with the evaluation reference group to seek their comments and suggestions. This report will contain the same sections as the final report, described below.

• Final Evaluation Report (to be submitted within 05 days after reception of the draft final report with comments)

The final report will be 20 to 30 pages in length. It will also contain an executive summary of no more than 2 pages that includes a brief description of JP VAW, its context and current situation, the purpose of the evaluation, its methodology and its major findings, conclusions and recommendations. The final report will be sent to the evaluation reference group. This report will contain the sections establish in Annex 2.

7. EVALUATION REPORT QUALITY STANDARDS

The following UNEG standards should be taken into account when writing all evaluation reports:

1. The final report should be logically structured, containing evidence-based findings, conclusions, lessons and recommendations and should be free of information that is not relevant to the overall analysis (S-3.16).

   NOTE: Using evidence implies making a statement based on valid and reliable facts, documents, surveys, triangulation of informants’ views or any other appropriate means or techniques that contribute to create the internal validity of the evaluation. It is not enough to just state an informed opinion or reproduce an informant’s take on a specific issue.

2. A reader of an evaluation report must be able to understand: the purpose of the evaluation; exactly what was evaluated; how the evaluation was designed and conducted; what evidence was found; what conclusions were drawn; what recommendations were made; what lessons were distilled. (S-3.16)

3. In all cases, evaluators should strive to present results as clearly and simply as possible so that clients and other stakeholders can easily understand the evaluation process and results. (S-3.16)

4. The level of participation of stakeholders in the evaluation should be described, including the rationale for selecting that particular level. (S-4.10)

5. The Executive Summary should “stand alone”, providing a synopsis of the substantive elements of the evaluation. The level of information should provide the uninitiated reader with a clear understanding of what was found and recommended and what was learned from the evaluation. (see Outline in Annex 2 for more details). (S-4.2)

6. The JP VAW being evaluated should be clearly described (as short as possible while ensuring that all pertinent information is provided). It should include the purpose, logic model, expected results chain and intended impact, its implementation strategy and key assumptions. Additional important elements include: the importance, scope and scale of JP VAW; a description of the recipients/ intended beneficiaries and stakeholders; and budget figures. (S-4.3)

7. The role and contributions of the UN organizations and other stakeholders to JP VAW being evaluated should be clearly described (who is involved, roles and contributions, participation, leadership). (S-4.4)

8. In presenting the findings, inputs, outputs, and outcomes/ impacts should be measured to the extent possible (or an appropriate rationale given as to why not). The report should make a logical distinction in the findings, showing the progression from implementation to results with an appropriate measurement (use benchmarks when available) and analysis of the results chain (and unintended effects), or a rationale as to why an analysis of results was not provided. Findings regarding inputs for the completion of activities or process achievements should be distinguished clearly from outputs, outcomes. (S-4.12)

9. Additionally, reports should not segregate findings by data source. (S-4.12)

10. Conclusions need to be substantiated by findings consistent with data collected and methodology, and represent insights into identification and/ or solutions of important problems or issues. (S-4.15)

11. Recommendations should be firmly based on evidence and analysis, be relevant and realistic, with priorities for action made clear. (S-4.16)

12. Lessons, when presented, should be generalized beyond the immediate subject being evaluated to indicate what wider relevance they might have. (S-4.17)

10. USE AND UTILITY OF THE EVALUATION

Final evaluations are summative exercises that are oriented to gather data and information to measure the extent to which development results have been attained. However, the utility of the evaluation process and products should go far beyond what was said by programme stakeholders during the field visit or what the evaluation team wrote in the evaluation report.

The momentum created by the evaluations process (meetings with government, donors, beneficiaries, civil society, etc.) it’s the ideal opportunity to set an agenda for the future of the programme or some of their components (sustainability). It is also excellent platforms to communicate lessons learnt and convey key messages on good practices, share products that can be replicated or scaled-up at the country and international level.

The commissioner of the evaluation, the reference group, the evaluation manager and any other stakeholder relevant for JP VAW will jointly design and implement a complete plan of dissemination of the evaluation findings, conclusions and recommendations with the aim of advocating for sustainability, replicability, scaling-up, or sharing good practices and lessons learnt at local, national or/and international level.

11. ETHICAL PRINCIPLES AND PREMISES OF THE EVALUATION

The final evaluation of JP VAW is to be carried out according to ethical principles and standards established by the United Nations Evaluation Group (UNEG).

- Anonymity and confidentiality. The evaluation must respect the rights of individuals who provide information, ensuring their anonymity and confidentiality.

- Responsibility. The report must mention any dispute or difference of opinion that may have arisen among the consultants or between the consultant and the heads of JP VAW in connection with the findings and/or recommendations. The team must corroborate all assertions, or disagreement with them noted.

- Integrity. The evaluator will be responsible for highlighting issues not specifically mentioned in the TOR, if this is needed to obtain a more complete analysis of the intervention.

- Independence. The consultant should ensure his or her independence from the intervention under review, and he or she must not be associated with its management or any element thereof.

- Incidents. If problems arise during the fieldwork, or at any other stage of the evaluation, they must be reported immediately to the Secretariat of the MDGF. If this is not done, the existence of such problems may in no case be used to justify the failure to obtain the results stipulated by the Secretariat of the MDGF in these terms of reference.

- Validation of information. The consultant will be responsible for ensuring the accuracy of the information collected while preparing the reports and will be ultimately responsible for the information presented in the evaluation report.

- Intellectual property. In handling information sources, the consultant shall respect the intellectual property rights of the institutions and communities that are under review.
• Delivery of reports. If delivery of the reports is delayed, or in the event that the quality of the reports delivered is clearly lower than what was agreed, the penalties stipulated in these terms of reference will be applicable.

12. QUALIFICATIONS OF THE CONSULTANT/TEAM OF CONSULTANTS

The Consultants should have expertise in the following areas:

- The evaluator should have at least 10 years of recognized expertise in conducting or managing evaluations, research or review of development programmes, and experience as main writer of an evaluation report.
- Minimum five years of technical and practical experience in assessing gender and VAW related programme
- Research design and implementation expertise in the area of Gender and VAW
- Previous UN work experience of minimum 5 years.
- Advanced communication skills
- Fluency in English

In the case of hiring more than one evaluator, one consultant should be experienced in the sector or technical areas addressed by the evaluation, or have a sound knowledge of the subject to be evaluated. The other should be an evaluation specialist and be experienced in using the specific evaluation methodologies that will be employed for that evaluation. (UNEG S3.13)

13. DISSEMINATION AND COMUNICATION STRATEGY

The consulting team will present the key findings at a dissemination event to stakeholders within the country. A PowerPoint presentation will be submitted as part of the deliverables from the programme.

Show progression of implementation with an appropriate measure and analysis of the results chain (organized by outcome, and distinguishing findings on completion of activities and outputs from outcomes). If some of this analysis is not included, explain why it is not. Also, include an analysis of the effect of the mid-term evaluation on the JP’s results achievement. For sustainability, please mention availability of financial resources and examples of or evidence for replicability and scale up of JP. Address all evaluation questions.
